THIS IS, OF COURSE, the height of the Christmas season and most of us are now filled with the Christmas spirit and everything is all sweetness and light as the great day nears.

Even the most cynical are affected to some degree by the bustle and rush that is so much a part of the season. It is difficult to remain aloof or immune from it.

And we doubt if any of us would want to anyway.

Although we have had 12 months to prepare for the season, we seem never to be ready and during these last few days before Christmas it seems that everything is accomplished at a dead run.

We keep our fingers crossed and hope that somehow things will fall into place.

That things generally do is just another one of those minor miracles.

But regardless of the hustle and bustle and the things that remain undone, there is always time for one sincere wish.

To all of you from all of us of The Press family, we wish you a joyous and happy Christmas.

SPEAKING OF "FAMILies," we note that in the news story in the Merc reporting the selection of the new slate of officers for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, it was stated that "The Campbell Chamber of Commerce family is organized and ready for action in 1973."

Chamber of Commerce "FAMILY"?

Could it be that the Merc reporter learned that in some select local circles, Ed Fabbri, the incoming president of the CofC, is called "the godfather"?

The "godfather" term in the case of Ed is used to express the esteem in which he is held in this community by those who have worked with him in any civic endeavor.

He is a dedicated community-minded individual and the Chamber of Commerce is fortunate to have a man of his caliber at the helm next year.

And, knowing Ed, we don't think he minded at all that the Mercury called the Chamber of Commerce a "family."

Come to think of it, that is sort of the way Fabbri has always operated.

And it has paid off.

THE PRESS "FAMILY" has had a recent addition. as you may have noticed.

Rusty Hammer, a student at Santa Clara University, who was elected to the City Council last April, has joined the advertising staff of The Press on a part-time basis under the direction of Sally Howe, The Press ad manager.

We think you will agree that Sally and Rusty make quite a team.

Incidentally at a recent dinner meeting to which city officials were invited from all over, those in charge of the affair apparently felt that the name "Rusty" was not dignified enough for a councilman.

So they up-graded (?) it.

On the name tag it was "Russtie Hammer."

SOME OF YOU MAY REcall that this column recently called attention to the gift of 75 root beer mugs that Floyd Little had presented to St. Lucy's during the silver jubilee of the parish in October.

We suggested that it was just like Floyd to give 75, which would be symbolic of a "diamond Jubilee" instead of 25 which would represent a silver anniversary.

Floyd's acts of generosity throughout the years, although unpublicized, for the most part, have made him something special in his community in which he takes so much pride.

After our column appeared,

MORE LOSERS THAN WINNERS

Denials top action at Planning Commission

There were more losers than winners at the Planning Commission meeting Monday night when four applications before the Commission were denied while only two were approved.

Approval was given the plans for a 26,170 square foot Longs Drug Store in the Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center, after a new landscaping plan had been submitted.

The other approval granted was for a variance for Charles R. Urbani at 1214 Robway to construct a second story over the rear portion of the existing residence. The approval came after the matter of an outside stairway had been satisfactorily answered for John R. Nolte, of 1202 Robway, next door neighbor, who had raised the question.

DANCE SCHOOL

Highlighting the denials for the evening was the rejection of the application of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Knowles, of 89 Cherry Lane, for a use permit to conduct a private dancing school in their residence now under construction.

Knowles in his presentation claimed that there would be no traffic or parking problem and the classes would be limited to 10 students. He said that the classes would be conducted in the rear second story portion of the residence. He added that the property backs up to light industrially zoned property on West Rincon and Mission Way.

He also claimed that the city's planning staff had not made an on-the-spot investigation before recommending against the permit.

In his report to the Planning Commission recommend-

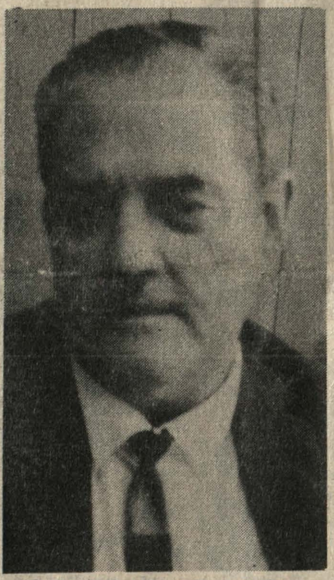
CAMPBELL UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT

New business manager takes over next month



C. E. (BRAD) BRADLEY
—outgoing

ORRIN BACHELOR
—incoming

When the trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District hold their first meeting of the new year on Thursday, Jan. 11, a new district business manager, Dr. Orrin Bachelor will occupy the seat held by C.E. (Brad) Bradley for more than 20 years.

At the last meeting of the trustees of the old year (Dec. 14), Superintendent Jim D'Avis commended Bradley for the important role the business manager had played in the school district during the time the district had grown from three schools to 19.

D'Avis expressed his own personal appreciation as well as that of the district for service that the outgoing business manager had rendered. D'Avis cited the development of the corporation yard, operation of the transportation and food service departments and construction of school buildings as special areas in which Bradley had provided leadership.

D'Avis added also that Bradley's understanding of the intricacies of school finances had been helpful to him during the past two years.

Dr. Bachelor, 40, the new business manager, had been working for the district on a part-time basis for the past four months and will officially assume the responsibilities of business manager in January.

Library moves into final lap

Authorization for the architect to proceed with drafting the final plans and specifications for the long-awaited library building is scheduled for the last regular meeting of the year for the City Council next Tuesday, December 26.

Because of Christmas, the Council will meet on Tuesday instead of Monday. The meeting is at 8 p.m. in the council chambers.

Before the authorization is approved, however, the Council is scheduled to modify the agreement with Architect Bill Hedley. The original agreement calls for a 12,000 square foot building. The library will contain 24,000 square feet because of additional funding that has been made available.

On the agenda also is the closed public hearing on the proposed zone change to allow a dog kennel operation at 1849 Pollard Road as requested by Joyce H. S. Kealoha.

Under study since the last Council meeting have been two acoustical reports as to sound projected level conditions of the kennel.

Fire Chief Gene Borden is expected to report on the progress of the proposed mutual aid pact with Central Fire District. Up for discussion also will be the proposed purchase of an "electro-writer" for the city's communication center.

P.O. crew gets mail on way

Despite a heavy holiday mail volume, the Campbell Post Office will be generally clear of Christmas mail by Saturday, December 23, according to Postmaster Bill Jennings.

"I want to commend the 74 employees of the Campbell Post Office for an extraordinary job of processing and delivering the avalanche of Christmas mail with dispatch and efficiency," Jennings said.

He said the general public also helped to provide an efficient Christmas mail operation by mailing early in accordance with a series of recommended mailing dates which were announced earlier this year.

District confirms date for Royer's suit

It was officially confirmed at last Thursday's board meeting for the first time of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District that the litigation matter of Neal Royer vs. the school district is scheduled for trial on January 22, 1973 and that the office of the county counsel is representing the defendants.

The statement was contained in a letter from Superintendent Jim D'Avis to the board members in answer to a series of written questions that had been asked on the subject by Gordon Abbott, of 1010 S. Baywood Ave.

Abbott's questions were raised in a letter from him to the board. (The letter also appeared in the Dec. 6 issue of The Press.)

In his letter to the trustees, D'Avis quoted from a statement issued by Robert Owens, deputy county counsel, in answer to Abbott's questions.

Royer, who had been with the school district for 22 years, starting as a teacher and rising to superintendent, was named superintendent in 1964 on a four-year contract which was renewed for another four years in 1968. He had only served 15 months of the second four-years when in Oct. 1970 he was demoted to principal by a 3-2 vote of the bo He received his superintendent's pay until July, 1971, when he was taken off the district payroll altogether. Royer is now assistant superintendent of the Atascadero school system.

Subsequently Royer filed suit against the district for $500,000 for breach of contract and, in addition, he sued the three trustees, who had removed him, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, Ralph Steinberg and Mrs. Eleanor Graham-Armstrong, for $1 million for defamation of character.

In his letter to the board, Abbott stated that "With all the legal movement involving our school district, I believe a public report on the status of the pending litigation is in order."

Abbott also asked who is providing legal counsel for the district and trustees and whether the current or former district insurance carrier is providing legal counsel and whether this would affect future insurance rates.

In his report to D'Avis, the county deputy counsel reported:

"The office of the county counsel is representing the defendants in the matter captioned Neal Royer vs. Board of Trustees, Sup. Ct. No. 249289. The matter is scheduled for trial on January 22, 1973. In all probability, the trial will commence on that date or soon thereafter, depending upon the availability of a court and counsel.

"This office made a motion for partial summary judgment which was heard on Sept. 13, 1972. The purpose of that motion was to seek to have the court strike from Royer's complaint any portion which sought to recover damages to his professional reputation."

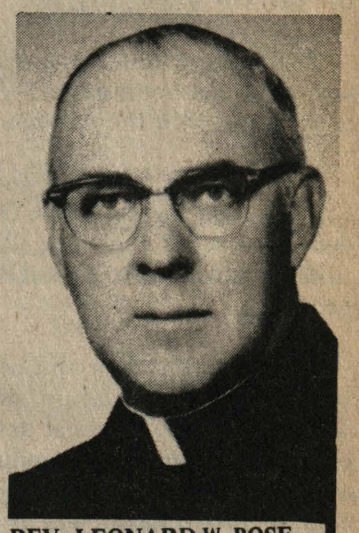
Judge Gerald S. Chargin denied the motion.

Owens goes on: "The firm of Popelka, Allard, Humphreys, Williams and Steinberg is defending the action....The defense is being provided pursuant to the district's policy of insurance with Insurance Company of North America."

"The costs incurred by this office in both cases can be determined by the district... (Owens noted that $578.06 in costs had been incurred to date.)

Owens also added that the county counsel's office provides professional services to the district at no cost, but that the insurance carrier bears the cost of defending the action. He concluded that he had no information as to the effect this litigation would have on the district's insurance premium.

Christmas 1972



REV. LEONARD W. BOSE

Following tradition, for the fourth successive year, the Christmas message that is presented in this issue is by the Rev. Leonard W. Bose, pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church in Campbell.

This is the fourth Christmas that Father Bose has been in Campbell, coming here in 1969, as successor to Father John Lally, who had served as pastor of St. Lucy's for the previous 10 years.

St. Lucy's in October marked its silver anniversary as a full-fledged parish and Father Bose is only the third pastor in the parish's history. The late Father Dennis Kennelly, after whom the parish hall was named, was the first pastor and was succeeded by Father Lally.

Father Bose, who is a director of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and has taken an active part in community affairs, came to Campbell from Mountain View where he established St. Athanasius parish and served as its pastor for 10 years.

Christmas message

REV. LEONARD W. BOSE
ST. LUCY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

Every Christmas we find ourselves wondering whether we have ever really understood Christ and the new life that has come among us. This is the way it should be. We ought not be satisfied with what we now know. We want to know more about this Babe born in a stable, about this "carpenter's" Son, about this "great Prophet Who has risen among the people," about this Man, Who, after dying on a Cross as a criminal, rose from the dead and is still with us in the world.

The world has never been the same since His Coming. So definitive was His Presence in the world that we date everything as either before or since His Coming, that is "Before Christ" or "Anno Domini." It is noteworthy that while we say "Before Christ", we do not say "After Christ" but rather "In the year of the Lord," attesting to the fact that He is still with us.

[illegible]ar, every Christmas, tells us more about this unique Figure of history. We never exhaust the meaning of this great mystery. Though born two-thousand years ago, He belongs as much to the present day as to the past. He is ever the selfsame: "the years fail him not."

Few would deny that the world is going through a change today, passing through another of history's transitional periods. Many of the things of yesteryear have been discarded: new things will take their place. Yet, amid all these changes, the central Figure, that of Jesus Christ, remains the same. He does not change; but we do. And as we do, we either draw closer to Him or else go further away.

Sent by His Father, He sought to restore to wayward mankind those gifts that were lost: firm peace, true freedom and universal justice. He alone was to redispense these divine gifts, for they had been entrusted to Him. It is for these gifts that men everywhere hunger and thirst. Let us hope they will go to Him, making Him the central Figure of their lives. There they will find His peace, His freedom and His justice. And by following Him, they will make these their very own.

Arson may be cause

Arson is suspected as the cause of a fire that did an estimated $15,000 damage to a one-story house at 1536 Adrian Way early Sunday morning, Fire Chief Gene Borden reported this week.

Mrs. Ann Buck, owner of the house, and her four children, were away staying with relatives at the time of the fire, Borden said.

Chief Borden said that investigation indicated that the fire was started in three different places, the attached garage, children's bedroom and a couch in the family room. He added also that the department has uncovered possible suspects in the investigation.

The fire was reported at 3:40 a.m. and the alarm was called in by a passer-by.

Trimble submits low bid

Trimble Construction Co., of Campbell with a low bid of $286,950 has been awarded the contract by the Board of Trustees of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District for additions to Hazelwood, Campbell and Forest Hill schools.

Bids were opened on December 13 and the award was made at the trustees meeting.

There were only two bids submitted. R. L. Carroll Construction submitted $304,857. The estimate for the job was $300,700.

It was also reported at the meeting that the sound barrier wall proposed for Moorpark School to alleviate the noise conditions at the school caused by the proximity to the freeway off-ramp will probably not be constructed until April, 1973.

The off-ramp, however, is expected to be opened this month.

Under new state legislation the Division of Highways will underwrite the cost of the sound barrier and air conditioned classrooms which are directly affected by the noise.

It has also been recommended that the school district air condition the other classrooms at the same time.

The trustees also approved the annual agreement with George J. Wightman to harvest the 1973 crop on the Allendale School site.

Goals program

In the selection of a 20-member steering committee, the City Council has set the machinery in motion for the first city goals program.

The steering committee will expand into a citizens advisory goals committee that is hoped will reach every segment of the community.

The scope of the goals committee will basically involve around three phases: (1) physical and economic development of the city; (2) intergovernmental relations and (3) city's responsibility for people-orientated programs.

Under the physical and economic phase, such matters as traffic circulation and public transportation; planning for the physical design and the environment of the city; commercial, industrial and residential balance for the optimum tax base and city services and capital improvements will be explored.

Intergovernmental relations will include what should be the city's role in local, regional, county, state and federal areas.

Under the people-orientated program, the city's role in public recreation, youth and senior citizen activities, cultural and special events and social services, will be examined.

We consider the goals program for the City of Campbell an excellent idea, provided that a determined effort is made to involve as many citizens as possible.

In our opinion, it is more important to get people involved in the goals program for their city for the first time than it is to depend on those who are already involved in civic activities.

We think the following statement that was issued by the City Council indicating the intent and purpose of the city goals program provides an excellent launching pad:

INTRODUCTION

The past and present City Council of Campbell has historically encouraged citizen involvement in the planning and development phases of the City. The 1967 and 1969 General Obligation Bond Issues were citizen initiated programs endorsed and backed by the City Administration.

Our urban environment requires local government to respond to changes which directly affect the day-to-day lives of its citizenry. The City Council, faced with the decision making processes to meet the needs of its citizenry, believes that informed citizen input to alternative solutions to many of the important local problems is timely.

The following statements should be interpreted as positive statements from the City Council in its intent and purpose for the establishment of a Citizen Advisory Goals Committee:

(1) It is the intent of the City Council to have all interests of the City represented. Once selected, each member of the Committee should think of himself as representing the public interest. Thus the question, "What is best for the entire City?" should take precedence over, "What is best for my interest group?"

(2) One important purpose of the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee is to act as a channel of communication between the general public and the City Council. If this is to be an effective two-way channel of communication, the members must listen as well as interpret and explain.

(3) The role of the Citizens Advisory Committee is primarily one of discovering what the people say they want. They must then translate these wants into a set of compatible and consistent City goals. The Committee can help feed these goals into the decision making process, remembering always that the distinction between WANTS and NEEDS is a political decision. It is the elected official's responsibility to determine the allocation and priorities of limited city resources to meet the needs of the City.

(4) The Advisory Committee is composed of a group of citizens who have been asked to advise public officials on specific current problems and issues. The Committee is not a substitute for regularly constituted government. The Advisory Committee should look upon itself as a lubricant for the on-going machinery of local government which should help the machinery function more effectively, more responsively and more wisely.

(5) The Advisory Committee, acting as a liaison group between City Hall and the general public has the opportunity to reduce misunderstandings and mistrust, and to reconcile what may appear to be contradictory viewpoints. It should help build a concensus around common goals and objectives.

(6) The Citizens Committee should make its final report in the form of possible alternative courses of action, an evaluation of each, and conclude with a recommendation as to which one it recommends. This makes it clear that the elected officials must make the final decision.

(7) Each member of the Citizens Committee has the responsibility to advise, to suggest, to listen, to evaluate and to recommend. The Committee does not have the authority to implement or to execute.

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

we received the following note from Floyd which we are delighted to share with you:

"Dear George:

"When I receive The Campbell Press, about the first thing I read is 'Out on the Limb.'

"I never quite knew what being out on the limb meant. But I do now.

"You have me right out on the limb with you. I hope it won't dump us both.

"You see there were only 72 mugs.

"Do you suppose the good people of St. Lucy's will think I did like Ananias and Saphira and kept back three of the mugs?

"On the other hand, maybe they won't count them. Anyway I'm going to sit tight on the limb and hope for the best.

"Even if the limb breaks, it was kind of you to be so thoughtful.

"Anyway I really enjoy "out on the limb". I mean your being out on the limb. Not me.

"Have a nice holiday season.

Sincerely,
Floyd Little."

And our best to you, too, Floyd.

We are happy to share our perch out on the limb with you any time.

WHAT HAPPENED TO 1973?

That was the question that was asked around the office last week when the new wall calendar for our office arrived.

For many years now we have been using the type of wall calendar that lists all the months on one sheet with blocks for each day where appointments,etc. can be written in.

When a new year begins we just staple the new calendar over the old one and away we go.

But the firm that ships the calendars to us sort of jumped the gun this time.

The calendar we received was for 1974.

Ye gods, years go by fast enough without pushing things in that manner.

Or perhaps the calendar people know something we don't know.

Maybe they think that 1973 is going to be such a bad year that they prefer to just skip it.

There have been years like that.

But we all will just have to wait and see.

In the meantime, the 1973 calendars have been reordered.

And the 1974 jobs have been put away.

We hope we can remember where we put 'em this time next year.

IRATE MOTORISTS WHO have been blocked at various times at the railroad crossing on Pollard Road by the gates across the tracks without a train in sight, will be relieved to know that the Campbell police have apprehended the youthful culprits who apparently were responsible for triggering the gates without benefit of a train.

Undoubtedly Southern Pacific people, who spent countless hours correcting the situation each time after the kids had shorted the circuit, also will be relieved to know that the gate-droppers have been caught.

The boys on their own had discovered how to break the circuit and had been doing it periodically, much to the frustration of the motorists who found their way blocked.

Each time it happened, the police would notify the SP and a crew would have to come out to repair the damage.

The youths were nabbed after the police had staked the gate.

The parents were called in, of course.

It is extremely doubtful that those particular youngsters will attempt to do their thing at that crossing in the near future.

And other kids who had a notion, might think twice about it.

Somehow it never seems quite as funny when you have to answer to both the police and your parents.

Letters to the Editor

SAYS "THANKS"

Dear Editor:

In September of this year, we took over operation of the former Towne Pride Market at 515 E. Campbell Ave.

Since that time, we have been visited by many members of the community and of the Chamber of Commerce, welcoming us to the area.

As the Christmas season approaches, we would like to express our thanks to the community for taking the time to stop in and to make known our appreciation for their thoughtfulness.

TRUSTEE ELECTION

Dear George:

Your editorial of December 13, 1972 entitled "Important Election" was excellent and worthy of comment.

I agree "it is imperative that the citizens in the district take a long hard look at the situation and then become involved in the selection of the trustees."

It brings into focus that we do have a very important election ahead of us, and it behooves everyone to carefully weigh the qualification of those eventually seeking the three seats in contention. It is then that we can make up our minds and give our active support to the candidates best qualified and dedicated to work with all board members for the betterment of our educational program and district affairs.

I would hope this election brings out Trustee candidates who will address themselves to naming and proposing solutions for the problems as they see them.

I would hope the electorate would truly get involved by knowing the candidates and expressing their decision at the polls in greater numbers than in the past.

Sincerely,
Homer H. Hyde

NEW SERGEANT--Sgt. Edward F. Fallgatter, 31, (left) is congratulated by Police Chief Don Burr, upon his promotion. Fallgatter, who was employed by the department in 1963, was promoted to Police Agent in 1968. He is a 1959 graduate of Campbell High and received his A.A. degree from West Valley College last June.

Denials

ing denial, Art Kee, planning director, submitted that, in his opinion, the private dance school did not constitute an educational institution as intended by the ordinance. Kee emphasized that it was located in an established residential area. He also suggested that the building, as constructed, would not comply with the building code requirements for such a use.

Speaking in opposition to the dance classroom were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Beltz, of 100 Cherry Lane; Owen A. Peterson, of 138 Cherry Lane and Mrs. Howard Cherry of 126 Cherry Lane.

They maintained that the residential street was no place for such an operation and could be the first encroachment of commercial use into that sector.

The Commission after the hearing was closed then unanimously voted to deny the application. Before the vote, Chairman Don Hebard suggested that further "negotiations" with the staff or neighbors would be helpful but the commissioners felt that no purpose would be served by a continuance.

OTHER DENIALS

In another denial action, by a unanimous vote, the application of Marshall Kent & Associates for a 51-unit apartment complex at 400 W. Rincon Ave. was rejected.

The commissioners indicated that 51 units was too high a density for the project. The denial came after the applicant maintained that 42 units, as had been suggested in conference, would not be satisfactory to the developer.

Originally the firm had asked for 58 units, which the city planning staff indicated was 18 over the 33 maximum. The 42 was a suggestion compromise.

PLUMBING SHOP

Denied also was the application of Vern L. Buckle for a plumbing shop at 240 Dillon. The denial was based on the design of the proposed building which was deemed unsatisfactory.

The other denial action was merely a routine procedure to get an application for an eight-story hotel and commercial building at Hamilton and Llewellyn off the agenda. The matter had been pending for 12 months waiting for the applicant to contact the planning staff.

CONTINUED

Action on the application of L. W. Bitney for approval of plans for a warehouse-office at 503 Salmar Ave. was continued until the next meeting after Bitney explained he had not received the notification to meet with the site approval committee in the morning until it was too late. He said he had been out of town.

Referred to the site committee also was the matter of landscaping of the Garland J. Spears trailer sales operation property. The City Council had referred the question to the Planning Commission.

SIGN ORDINANCE

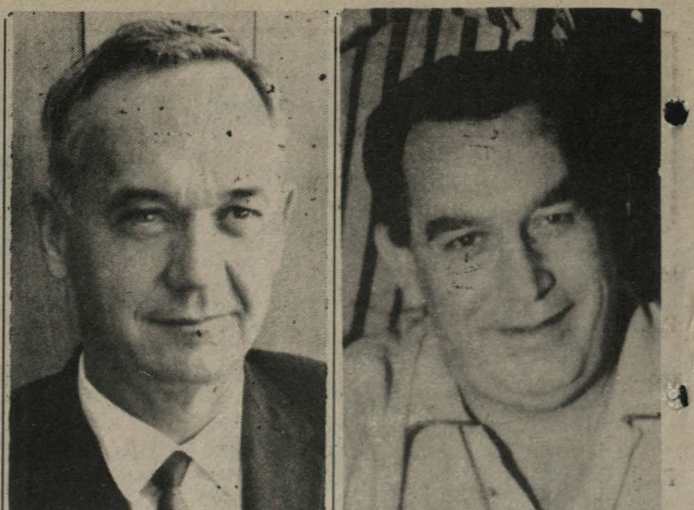
After considerable discussion over the modifications in the sign ordinance that had been hammered out by a joint city-Chamber of Commerce committee, it was decided to put off action until the second meeting in January to allow time for the committee to discuss further ramifications.

Holly Vollenweider, chairman of the CofC commercial committee involved in the sign ordinance, explained the changes that had been proposed.

Some of the commissioners felt that the freeway sign policy, vehicle signs and sign abatement procedures should be included in the ordinance.

The Commission adjourned for a special meeting at 5 p.m. Thursday, December 21, to discuss the proposed use of 126 N. Harrison.

Don Hebard, chairman, and Bob Stewart, vice-chairman, were nominated to continue in their respective offices for the next year.



STAY IN OFFICE--Don Hebard (left) and Bob Stewart, chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the Planning Commission since July, were nominated by their fellow commissioners on Monday night to serve in the same capacities for the next year. Hebard, as vice-chairman, moved up to the chairmanship when Dale Scott resigned and Stewart was named vice-chairman at that time.

YOUNG WINSTON

Through our affiliation with the Peninsula Adult/Youth Film Council we recently enjoyed "Young Winston."

This movie is about Winston Churchill from the age of 8 to 25.

Young Winston is acted superbly by Simon Ward. Robert Shaw and Anne Bancroft play Lord and Lady Randolph Churchill.

The film is a series of flashbacks, interviews, and action scenes.

We thoroughly relished this movie, from the beautiful sets and costumes to the educational sequences showing Churchill as a prisoner of war and his escape.

Young Winston is a movie made for anybody's tastes. We recommend this movie for older children and adults.

Don't go into the theater expecting an "educational" film--expect an enjoyable and surprising film.

Post script: We liked this better than Patton.

Ms.: You know there's only five more days until Christmas?

CHRISTMAS IS.......

Christmas is being glad you're a senior--so you can decorate the school Christmas tree, but instead all eight feet of it sits naked in the corner.

....joy and peace.

....decorating a door in first period on the last day of school, and expecting to get a prize.

....wishing you were a little kid again.

....going to see the Breuner's Christmas window at 7:30 a.m. that is animated--and it's not turned on.

....going to the Christmas tree lot to smell the pines because yours is fake.

Paul: You know what I miss most around Christmas?

Ms.: I know...writing letters to Santa Claus.

OPEN LETTER TO SANTA CLAUS

Dear Santa,

Please bring a dove.

A white dove, a snow dove.

A dove that can survive the long winters of war and discontent and hostility.

Please bring a dove that will carry bright summers and point the way toward a lasting peace.

A dove that will quench the fires of prejudice and hate.

A dove to feed the hungry children, and help the aged.

A dove made of softness and love, and all things natural; and not a bird of prey.

Please, Santa, bring a dove.

Ms.: Excuse me, I have to go get my hankie.

Paul: I know what you mean. But maybe that story will make up for this story.

JINGLE BELLS AND BASKETBALLS

The Warrior hoopsters started out the basketball season with the 6th annual Westmont Invitational Christmas Tournament, December 7.

Westmont finished sixth but placed two men in the all-tourney team, Andy Lund and Brian Howell.

Tonight the Warriors meet Milpitas there at 6 p.m.

Ms.: Milpitas? Isn't that a little far?

Paul: Yes, but being the ace reporters that we are we WILL report, in the tradition of our idol.

Ms.: You don't mean----

EGO CORNER

This week we decorate Sandy Mann with Ego Corner.

With Sandy's column "Passing the Buc" we would have nothing to keep us working toward a good column.

So to our best competitor and biggest journalistic rival, we thank you for the honors.

And anybody who had summer school biology and survived can't be all bad.

Paul: That was pretty neat how she said we were her choice for best senior journalist.

Ms.: Yeah, we've been so conceited all week no one can stand us. We'll have to sit in the mail box like Woodstock for a Christmas card.

Paul: Or FAN letter!

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM PAUL AND MAUREEN.

HOME FOR HOLIDAYS

Campbell High graduate John D. Myers, now a freshman at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, arrived here from Maryland to spend the holidays with his family.

He is the son of Mrs. Mildred Myers, 290 W. Latimer Ave., and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brighthill, also of Campbell.

BURGLARS HIT

A Campbell couple lost over $1,000 last week when burglars broke into their apartment.

Barry and Toni Steiner, 195 #2, W. Rincon Ave., returned home to find jewelry, stereo equipment and a radio gone.

Police have the burglary under investigation.

Cougars Corner

by Mike Lindsey

The Christmas spirit has settled over Camden and all students wait anxiously for the holiday vacation. The vacation starts a little later than usual this year, due to a change in the number of days in the school year. Vacation starts Wednesday, December 20 this year.

Many of the students are very upset. The general thinking is that the students are being cheated out of several days of vacation but, in actuality, we are only losing one school day and a weekend.

This isn't as bad as it seems and as soon as school gets out and everybody gets into the Christmas spirit they'll forget about losing those days and be thankful for the days they have.

TICKET COMMISSION

A little talked-about organization at Camden High School is "Ticket Commission." Although they aren't talked about, they collect a great deal of money. During football season on a given game day they will collect anywhere from $100–$2800.

There are about 40 students who are in charge of collecting this money. After money is collected it is then put into the school for student activities.

SPORTS

Three major boys sports, as well as three major girls sports, have begun their season in past weeks. The male students are playing basketball, soccer and wrestling while the females are participating in field hockey, basketball and tennis.

All six are very good and a couple of league championships wouldn't be very surprising.

Merry Christmas to all. See you next year!

Merry Christmas to our faithful high school columnists -- Mike, Lynn, Sandy, Paul & Maureen. Keep up the good work!

Passing the Buc

By Lynne Hermle

SEASON OPENER

The Campbell High School Wrestling Team opened their season for 1972 with a double meet with Carmel and Monterey at Del Mar High on December 2. Campbell clobbered Carmel 34-21, but lost to Monterey after having to forfeit 30 points because of five absent wrestlers.

I wandered into one of the team's after school practice sessions last week and watched spellbound for an hour or so as the guys writhed around on the floor in all sorts of complicated exercises, which are performed to strengthen various muscles in the body (as explained to me by Campbell's new head coach, Mr. Art Heindel.)

"I think that we'll have a good season," said Coach Heindel. "Several of our new wrestlers look very promising." He helped to clear up my obvious confusion by explaining, "A wrestling match is really a sprint. A lot of energy is expended in a short time (3 periods of two minutes each). The body must be in top physical condition but the wrestler must also use his brain and remember the holds while he's wrestling. There has to be a lot of mental output and a large amount of discipline. The wrestlers must watch what they eat in order to maintain the weight that they wrestle in."

It seems that there are 11 weight divisions in which the team members can wrestle. The divisions range from 91 pounds to over 191 pounds (which is known as the "unlimited category"). The top man in each division wrestles on the Varsity team and the next best wrestler on the Junior Varsity team. Elimination matches are held between team members every week to see who those top two men will be.

"If we fill all our weights we'll have a great season," said captain Tim Wheeler, 1972 Regional Champ in the 95 pound division." A lot of our guys are doing real well even though they're just beginners. I think the coach is doing a great job, especially since it's his first year as head coach."

ATTENTION ALL SKIERS!

The Ski Club is planning an overnighter to Lake Tahoe (and are still choosing between Squaw, Heavenly or Alpine Valley) for January 19, 20 and 21. The cost should run about $50 for the average skier, which includes food, lift tickets, lodging and bus fare. It seems that the December 15 trip was such a big success that the bus will be filled up before you can say Jean-Claude Killy, so get in on the sign-ups soon in Room 23. Come and see the mystery skier with the initials D. L. challenge the great snow bunnies of the century!

MERRY CHRISTMAS EVERYONE! And maybe a little more peace on earth.....

'Small World' is theme at Dover School

Costumes from fifteen different countries, made by the students, were part of Dover School's annual Christmas program last week.

The theme, "It's a Small World," was highlighted by students representing different countries of the world. Mrs. Diane Speckman directed the play which included over 150 Dover students.

The school orchestra, directed by David Dunton, played a selection of Christmas music.

Soloists in the program were Libby Maggetti, Wendy Moss, David Silva and Susan Holsinger.

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED

- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

Carolers will entertain here

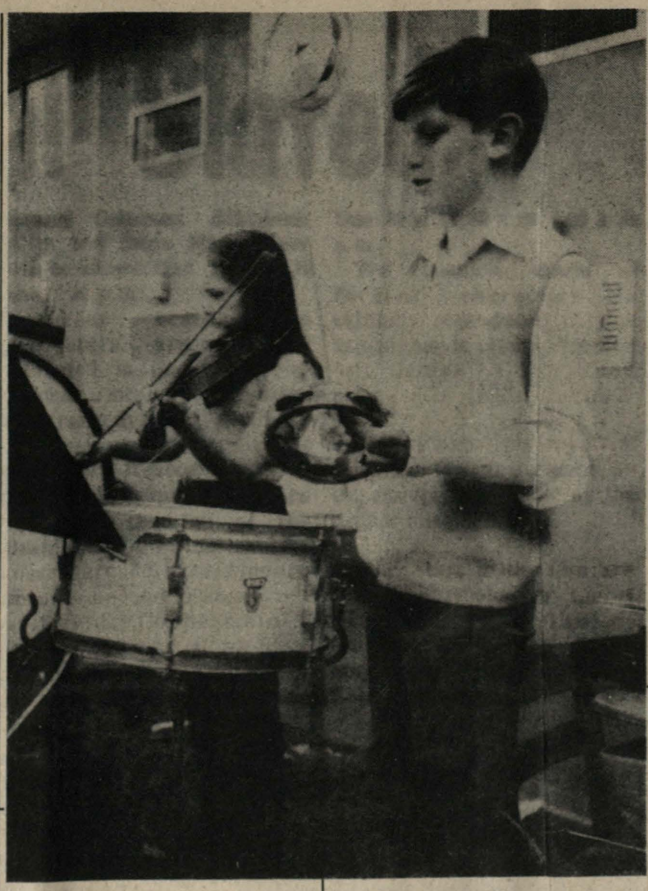
A second generation of El Solyo Singers will be caroling on the 1100 block of El Solyo Avenue this Friday evening.

For the past 16 years the children have caroled their parents and friends as part of this annual event. All singers in this year's group will be under the age of five.

The group was initially begun by Mrs. Charlie Cole, later directed by Mrs. Elberta Trubshaw, one of the original singers. For the past three years Mrs. Diane Cabral served as leader.

This year Mrs. Mary Hernandez, active in the Head Start Program in Campbell, will take over leadership.

Former members are now grown with families of their own, are away at college, in the armed services or working in their career fields.



NEITHER RAIN NOR SNOW--nor a broken arm can keep a good drummer down. Artie Day, sixth grade student at Capri School recently suffered a broken arm in a fall. With the school's Christmas Concert planned he had to do some improvising to make sure the school band had a drummer. Last Thursday night he performed with the band, with his drumstick fastened to his cast. Artie, 930 Scott Ct., is pictured above with Dawn Dover. Both are in Mrs. Lee's class and directed by instrumental music teacher Earlene Ware.

LOCAL PERSONALITY

Decorating avocation for Lorraine

by Pat Safford

One of the loveliest examples of holiday decorating is not to be found at one of the many Christmas boutiques or bazaars, but at the Steinway Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williamson.

Dozens of hand-fashioned creations are displayed both inside and outside their 1057 Steinway Avenue home. From the painted wooden elves, Santa and his reindeer and, the newest addition, the Santa Claus train on the front lawn, to the miniature Mr. and Mrs. Santa that adorns the Williamson's bedroom door, the entire house is alive with special creations that feature flickering lights, ornaments and an obvious personal touch.

ELEVEN YEAR RESIDENTS

Bob and Lorraine have lived in Campbell for 11 years, moving here from Watsonville where Lorraine was born and raised. Bob is a conductor for Southern Pacific Railroad and the railroad theme is apparent throughout the house (old train lanterns decorate their patio and the family room has been renamed the "Caboose Room.")

"He's much more clever than I am," said the attractive matron modestly of her husband. She brought out several plaster figurines he's done. From making the mold right through painting and finishing the final product.

Bob, a native of Hanford, California, has been with the railroad for over 30 years and is active in the Santa Cruz Shrine, a unit of the Islam Temple of San Francisco. (He is a past-president)

Lorraine, mother of three and grandmother of eight ("one is a Christmas baby") is a beautician by trade. With her children grown, however, she missed having children to look after and three years ago began offering licensed child care.

Intermingled in the neat, very attractively decorated home are toys, a small rocker and even a built-in sand box on the patio.

NOT FINISHED YET

With Christmas approaching and her family expected for the holidays, Lorraine was busy this Monday with plans for making new Christmas tablecloths. Not one, but two. One for Christmas Eve and another for Christmas Day.

Decorating has always been an avocation for Mrs. Williamson. Since grade school days in Watsonville she has somehow always ended up on the decorating committee for school and club functions. "I was always party chairman," Lorraine says of her girlhood days at the Episcopal Church of Capitola.

Later, at Santa Cruz High School, she was again activities chairman. "I was sure I was going to write party books," she said of her earlier days, but the care of her family intervened and she has used her talents instead to help her husband in his shrine functions and to hold a staggering array of neighborhood and social functions.

Last year she held a Mexican buffet for 125 Shrine guests at her home. With no outside help, other than that of a girlfriend, she cooked, decorated and arranged the affair which featured salads, tamales, enchilades, cornbread muffins and miniature chess pies.

GROWING FAMILY

In contrast to her image as the Pearl Mesta of Campbell, she has a wall gallery of family pictures in her bedroom. Pictured there are; son, Roy, 32, his wife, Phylis, and their three children, Raymond, 30, his wife, Carla and their three children and Arleen Williamson Lucky, 29, her husband Dan and their two children.

Her two sons are both employed by P.G. & E. in Santa Cruz and Roy is very active in the ecology action activities in the coastal town.

One example of her decorating is the Sugar Plum Tree, made with the grandchildren in mind. A manzanita branch painted and decorated with popcorn flowers, ornaments, and lights, it also sports special chocolate candies for the little ones to pick on Christmas Day. Her heavily flocked Christmas tree will become next year's garlands. Each year she saves the best boughs to decorate the fireplace area, complete with lights and ornaments, for the next year.

Throughout the house are numerous lighted arrangements (and some 8 to 10 candle displays as well). In answer to the obvious question she laughed, "I hate to think of our light bill next month."

The original idea for many of her decorations have come from displays she's seen. "I look at every magazine that comes out," Lorraine explained.

ORCHID CORSAGES

Floral decoration is another strong interest with Mrs. Williamson. Several years ago she made up several dozen orchid corsages for the wives of Shriners to be worn to one of their galas. When one of her nieces was married she created the bride's and bridesmaid's bouquets. The backyard of the Steinway Avenue home contains a myriad of trees and plants, From the lath which protects tropical and sub-tropical ferns to Bob Williamson's special tree (an almond to which he has grafted two species of plum, apricot and two types of peach).

With the holiday season over, and the decorations stored away for another year, Lorraine can relax...for a few weeks.

She's accepted the post of decorations chairman for the installations of Daughters of the Nile, Zora Nile Club of San Jose--in March.

LORRAINE WILLIAMSON--- Campbell housewife arranges one of dozens of holiday decorations gracing her Steinway Avenue home.

LIFELONG AVOCATION--- Since grade school Lorraine Williamson has been putting her personal touch on many school and club galas.

SANTA'S ON HIS WAY-- Five year old Bootsie Rhodes, a neighbor of the Williamson's admires newest addition to the lawn decorations; Santa's Train. Bootsie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhodes, 1025 Steinway Avenue.

Engagement told

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Clark have announced the engagement of their daughter, Colleen Marie, to David Richard Chiaramonte, also of Campbell.

A graduate of Campbell High School, Colleen, 129 S. Christopher, is now attending West Valley College. She plans to become a medical assistant.

Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Chiaramonte, 110 S. Milton Ave., also attends West Valley where he is majoring in park management.

No wedding date has been set.

Parents of all the boys watched the formal presentation. The Rev. Wm. (Ben) Gould, minister of the First Methodist Church of Campbell gave the invocation.

Piano needed at Eastfield

Do you have an old piano that you are no longer using? If so, Eastfield Children's Center for emotionally disturbed children could make good use of it.

Several of the children have expressed an interest in learning to play, and this practice could be good therapy, according to F. Jerome Doyle, executive director. There is a staff member available to teach.

Prospective donors should contact Mr. Doyle or Kay Idota, business manager, at Eastfield Center, 251 Llewellyn Ave., Campbell, by telephoning 379-3790. Arrangements for pick-up can be made.

Eastfield is a United Fund Agency, and donations are tax deductible.

A Christmas Prayer

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding ✣ that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified ✣ that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them ✣ that each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses ✣ that the true spirit of this Christmas Season— its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith— may live among us ✣ that the blessings of peace be ours— the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence.

Grandmothers seek members

Campbell grandmothers have been issued a special invitation to join a group devoted to throwing out Roberts Rules of Order. The Grandmother's Club, a social organization, is seeking new members, according to Hilda Rogers, publicity chairman.

"Most of our members are ex-professional, ex-PTA and ex-club people," said Mrs. Rogers, who enjoy the club functions and projects but are tired of the structure and rules of order in the more organized groups.

An example of the emphasis of this club would be two recent parties put on by members. The "Going Back to School," party was a big success according to Mrs. Rogers and everyone had fun at the annual Hallowe'en party, she said.

Chapter 13 of the state organization meets twice monthly and among service projects carried out by the group are the silver tea boutique and rummage sale which raises funds to aid a home for retarded children. Care to the aged is also a club project and members visit patients in local convalescent hospitals regularly.

For more information about the group, grandmothers may call Marie Ojeda, president at 739-0733.

Mort Sahl appears here

"An Evening with Mort Sahl" will be presented at West Valley College Jan. 17 at 8 p.m. The program will complete the college's fall lecture and concert series sponsored by Community Services.

Sahl, "the enfant terrible" of the early 1960's, will bring his special brand of humor and satire to the college that evening.

The self-appointed conscience of the American political scene, Sahl will take potshots in all directions. He has been a guest on 32 network TV talk shows during the past year; guested recently on ABC's late night show, the Comedy News Hour; was interviewed in Playboy magazine; and is working on the first part of his autobiography.

Starting with his phenomenal success in the 1950's at San Francisco's famed supper club, The Hungry I, Sahl rapidly climbed to the top, bringing to political humor the freshness and bite it had not had since Will Rogers.

By 1960 he was the first comedian to do record albums and college concerts. He took Broadway, Hollywood and TV by storm, was profiled by "Time" and "The New Yorker" magazines, and became the idol of millions for his expert political needling.

Critics have said "he is still one of the most original minds operating in a business that tends to wear everything down to the same slickness" and "he has become a sort of one-man loyal opposition to everything that smacks of the establishment."

Sahl will appear in the Campbell campus auditorium, corner of Winchester Blvd. and Campbell Avenue.

Tickets for his appearance may be obtained from Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, 379-1733, ext. 58.

MORT SAHL

ALL READY — Shovel in hand, Mike Ernst, center, is ready for the tree planting. This year Coventry School used a living Christmas tree to decorate their multi-use room. The tree will be planted on the school grounds after the holidays. Pictured above, from left, are Gary Barden, Bruce Loob, Julie Goddard and Lorraine Sneed.

School club gives living Christmas gift

Coventry Elementary School is observing the festivity of Christmas by giving the school grounds a belated Christmas present - a Colorado blue spruce.

Instead of using an artificial tree or a cut tree, the Home and School Club bought a living tree which was decorated and placed in the multi-purpose room. The children and teachers have been enjoying it through these past weeks, and it will be planted on the school grounds after Christmas.

The Christmas tree was also the focal point of sharing in the form of canned goods and other non-perishable foods which were placed under the tree as the students brought them to the school. These foods were used in Christmas baskets for families in need at this time.

Also brightening up the multi-use room were large and colorful banners made by the sixth graders, on which are emblazoned Merry Christmas, Yuletide Greetings and Happy New Year in a number of languages.

Reverend Sisco welcomed at First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Campbell welcomed a new minister this past month who hails from Hawaii.

The Reverend L. Vernon Sisco and his family arrived from Eva Beach, Hawaii where he served as minister of the First Southern Baptist Church there.

A special service was held at the church, located at 400 Llewellyn, on Sunday, December 10, welcoming the minister and his family; his wife, Mildred, and a son, Charles, 13.

The Sisco family also have three daughters, Dorothy, Mary and Betty, two of whom are teachers. Dorothy teaches at Campbell High School in Honolulu, Hawaii and Mary is a high school teacher in Flint, Michigan. Betty, the businesswoman of the family, serves as the regional representative for a manufacturing firm in Oahu, Hawaii.

The Reverend Sisco, originally from Tennessee, was ordained through the West Jackson Baptist Church of Tennessee. He received his B.A. from Union University of Jackson and his B.D. degree from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Kentucky.

Several years ago he held an evangelical crusade in New Zealand and has traveled extensively throughout the islands of the Pacific and throughout Europe.

In addition the minister is author of two books: "Church Members Handbook," published by Baptist New Mexican, and "Evangelism Evangelized," published by the Art Craft Press.

QUICK WORK

James E. Carothers, 1147 Bismark Dr., was gone from home for only a half hour last week but during that time he was robbed of over $1,300 worth of stereo equipment.

An interesting sidelight to the burglary. The Caruthers' two German Shepherds were at home at the time...but locked in the garage.

FOR MEN ONLY—Paul Calleja and Frank Calabray try out their cooking talents by using a recipe from the "Men Only" section of the recently published St. Lucy's 25th Jubilee Cook Book.

Cookbooks are sold by church

St. Lucy's 25th Jubilee Cookbooks have arrived from the printers and are now available to the public, it was announced recently.

The cookbook, compiled by parishioners and friends, includes over 540 recipes from grandma's day up to the latest recipe in circulation.

A special section entitled "Very Important People" includes recipes that are near and dear to the hearts of local dignitaries as well as movie and TV stars.

Cookbooks may be purchased by calling Rosaline Calabray at 377-8001 or Lorraine Doetsch at 378-3331.

Guide offered by AIM group

"The earlier belief that life begins at 40 can now be moved up to 50 and 60 thanks to medical progress, discovery of new drugs and better nutrition," according to a free Health Guide prepared for people in the 50-plus age bracket by Action for Independent Maturity (AIM).

Designed to help middle-agers cultivate maximum physical fitness, the Guide notes that each person has his own "biological clock," but most people at 50 retain four-fifths of the muscle strength they had at age 25.

Although regular exercise is still vital in later years, the consensus of most medical experts is that "the most convenient and effective exercise for middle-agers is vigorous walking--at least 15 minutes, three times a day," the Guide states.

"Take your exercise in a gradually increasing dosage, though, and build it up only to moderate levels," the booklet cautions.

The Guide also provides information on nutrition, weight levels, and care of the eyes, ears and teeth and includes a handy checklist for Dynamic Fitness.

The Health Guide is one of a series of booklets published by AIM to help pre-retirees plan for successful living in mature years. AIM is a division of the four million-member American Association of Retired Persons.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

If you think the weather was cold here last week, you should have been with me in Las Vegas. When we arrived Monday afternoon the temperature was 31 degrees. It never rose above freezing the whole time we were there. It finally warmed up when we left Friday morning, a whopping 34 degrees. A veritable heat wave!

I used to live in Las Vegas and I've never seen the weather there this cold and I lived there the last time it snowed. But that was only one night and the cold only lasted two days. The only people who were comfortable were us lucky easterners or northern Californians who still had our top coats.

My Los Angeles counterpart was laughing when he saw me with my top coat but he didn't laugh long. All of our people from the home office in Nashville also had top coats. I doubt if we wore them more than a half hour a day, though. Our group stayed at Circus-Circus and all the convention meetings and activities took place at the Stardust, less than a block away. That's about as far as we went.

FAIRS ARE BIG

What was I doing in Las Vegas? Besides doing this column for the Campbell Press, I am also the regional editor for Amusement Business, a weekly trade paper for the mass entertainment industry. Although we have been known as AB for over 10 years, most of our readers still call us Billboard. Billboard is our sister publication that was split off and now covers only records and juke boxes.

AB covers all sorts of live entertainment which includes the state and county fairs. That was our reason for being in Las Vegas, the annual convention of the International Association of Fairs and Expositions.

Last year fairs bought $31 million dollars worth of talent for their live grandstand shows. This included top stars like Bob Hope and Jack Benny all the way down to names you never heard of, but entertainers that are necessary to round out a stage presentation. What better place to hold these meetings than Las Vegas with its many stage shows as well as the many performers that make their homes there.

Held in conjunction with the IAFE meetings is the convention of the Showmen's League of America. The League stages two big social functions during the week, the President's Party and the Banquet and Ball. Both are showcases of talent for the visiting fair boards and managers.

The president's party usually lasts several hours and talent on the bill this year included Ann Margret, Myron Cohn, Robert Goulet and Wayne Newton as well as Marilyn Apollo, which is another story.

The Banquet and Ball has a very short show because once it is over the floor is cleared and the dancing goes on until the wee small hours of the morn. This year's show consisted of the Doodletown Pipers, Don Rice and Frankie Avalon with George Jessel as MC.

BOBBY VINTON BOOKED

The manager of one of our Bay Area fairs took a side trip to the Flamingo to catch Bobby Vinton and came away so impressed that he called his show producer and told him to get together with Vinton's manager and book him for next summer's fair. Several other stars were booked in the same manner last week.

Also displaying their wares and vying for contracts were carnivals, thrill shows, ice shows, circuses, fireworks displays, auto races and just about anything in the entertainment field. Most came away happy although some left a small deposit at the gaming tables.

BASKETBALL

Utilizing a balanced scoring attack, the West Valley College Viking basketballers whipped Skyline 105-81 to snatch third place in the annual Cabrillo Classic last weekend.

The Vikes topped the 100 point mark for the second time this season in their winning effort over Skyline.

West Valley won their opener in the tournament 66-41 over Monterey Peninsula College but were nipped 81-77 in overtime in the second round by Santa Barbara.

A stunning overtime victory by Santa Barbara dropped West Valley into that fight for third place.

The Vikings were down by as much as 10 points in the second half before they came back to take a slim one-point lead but fouled Walsh with only five seconds left.

Walsh hit the first free toss in a one-and-one situation but his second try was off the mark. SB rebounded but their last ditch shot missed.

Hile, Desin and Boskovich were the top scorers in the game for the Vikings. Desin dropped 21 and Hile and Boskovich added 18 each.

Against MPC Desin hit 16, Hile 12 and Walsh 10 to lead WVC to victory. Walsh ended the game with 11 rebounds and Boskovich had 10, Batinich, again off the bench, pulled off eight rebounds.

WRESTLING

A pair of decision wins were all the West Valley College wrestlers allowed last week when they won two more Camino Norte Conference matches by hearty scores.

The Vikings easily whipped Marin 45-4 and smashed Contra Costa 52-4 to run their CNC dual match record to 3-1.

West Valley came back with a strong effort at the San Francisco State tournament with three performers walking off with places.

Jamie Wheeler (Campbell) and Mike Walker (Campbell) won in the 118 and 142 divisions, respectively, and Mitch Vierra (Westmont) picked up a fourth at 150.

Dave Mendez (Buchser) and Doug Allen (Los Gatos) each posted a pair of falls in the two Viking victories to help WVC to the easy wins.

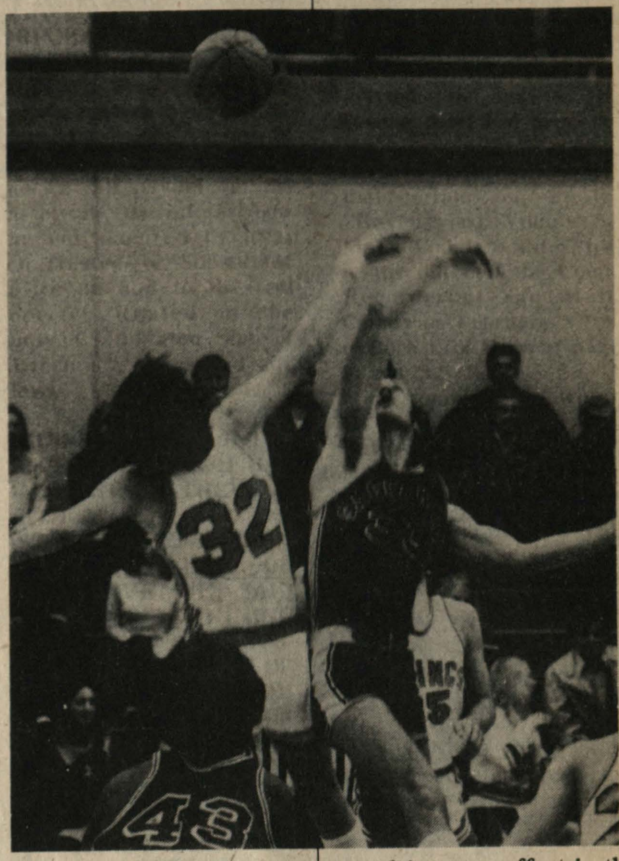
Vierra came up with the fastest pin of the day, though--in fact, the fastest pin for a Viking this year. Vierra put his 142 pound opponent to the mat in 41 seconds against CCC. He won his other match 5-3.

Wheeler reversed things a bit, pinning against Marin in 2:10 and winning 13-3 against the Comets, both at 126 pounds.

Five Vikings got forfeit wins against the Comets to pick up individual wins the easy way. Angel Soliz (Wilcox) won by forfeit in both matches at 118, Walker was a forfeit winner at 150 against CCC, Gary Russell (Leigh) took a win at 167 in the same match, Mark Sevigny (Del Mar) won at 177 and Dale Robinson (Saratoga) won at 190.

Walker won by pin at 150 against Marin and Kevin Locke (Buchser) was a pin winner at 158. The only other wins were decisions by Russell, 5-2, and Robinson, 5-2.

Sevigny was the only loser against Marin, falling 26-4, and Locke was a 14-3 loser to a Contra Costa state placer from last season.



BATTLING FOR BALL—Tim Walsh (32), of West Valley College, battles for a jump ball in a recent Viking cage tilt. The 6'7" cager from Mitty turned in a top effort in the Vikings' overtime loss to Santa Barbara in the Cabrillo Classic.

Lower bus fares loom

When the new Santa Clara County Transit District takes over operation of local bus services the customers can expect lower fares, plus the continuation of some existing bargains, according to James T. Pott, the district's assistant executive officer.

The district was approved by voters at the June election. It expects to take over San Jose City Lines operations on January 1. Negotiations are also under way for Peerless Stages local service and the Peninsula Lines in Palo Alto.

When the County Transit buses start rolling, these will be the fares:

--25 cents for most adults, anywhere the bus goes with no second or third "zone" charge.

--10 cents for those 65 years and over and those between five and 18 years.

--free rides for those under five if accompanied by a paying rider.

--free rides one-way for San Jose shoppers who obtain a merchant's validation stamp. (This is an existing San Jose Chamber of Commerce program.)

--$5 commute tickets for 22 rides, which means about 22.8 cents for a ride.

--10-ride tickets selling for $1 will be available to children, teenagers and senior citizens.

--four-ride tickets for $1 will be available to other adults.

--free transfers good anywhere County Transit buses run in the County.

Pott said the fares were recommended by the County Transportation Commission and officially adopted by the County Board of Supervisors, which is the governing board of the district.

Students design new shelter

Turning in a class assignment into a profitable learning experience was accomplished this month by students enrolled in West Valley College's architectural design class.

Instructor William Duquette asked his class to design a band shelter for the existing band platform located in Oak Meadow Park in Los Gatos.

Los Gatos' Park Department and Junior Chamber of Commerce (which is paying for materials for the shelter) asked Duquette and his class to submit entries which would be judged in competition for prizes totaling $70.

The students' final drawings were judged by a jury consisting of Douglas Sporleder, Jaycees' project committee chairman; Robert Bryant, Los Gatos Park Dept.; Burrow; Charles Tyler, West Valley graphics arts instructor and counselor; and Duquette, Peter Jacobsohn and Jim Morelan, all West Valley architecture instructors.

First place of $35 and 60 points went to Paul R. Mestemacher; second place of $25 and 50 points went to James R. Murphy; while third place of $15 and 50 points went to Brian P. Leeb. Honorable mention (50 points) went to Kenneth A. Rodrigues and Jeff D. Thorne.

It is hoped the shelter can be constructed in the next few months.

ARCHITECTURAL STUDENTS—A new band shelter for Los Gatos' Oak Meadow Park will soon be built, thanks to plans drawn up by West Valley College architectural students. In a contest for West Valley students, sponsored by the Los Gatos Park Department and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, first place went to Paul Mestemacher, left. Other winners include (seated) James R. Murphy (second) and Brian P. Leeb (third). Those standing are William Duquette, West Valley architecture instructor; Bob Bryant, Los Gatos Park Department; Jeff D. Thorne and Kenneth A. Rodrigues, honorable mention winners; and architect Dennis Burrow.
